DAY 2 - Saturday, October 26th, 2024

MORNING

10:00 Form & Emotion Workshop with designer Brunno Jahara (Brazil)

How to bring surprise and fascination into a design object. Workshop on project and reflection on possible paths.

13:00 Lunch Break

AFTERNOON

14:00 Design as Process Workshop with designer Paula Dib (Brazil)

In manual making, the process is a condition. There is no stage to be skipped. The flow, laden with meaning, leads us to the next steps and to new places. Materialization is a consequence of our commitment, swinging between observing and manipulating. In this workshop, clay will be the protagonist and our relationship with it will reveal its beauty.

17:00 Conclusion of the Entre Fazeres no Design 2024: Portugal & Brazil by Raul Cunca and Maria Cecília Loschiavo

Biographies of Speakers

Brunno Jahara

Product designer, born in 1979 in Rio de Janeiro. He studied at the University of Brasília and was part of the creative design team at Fabrica, Italy. His works have been showcased worldwide, collaborating with established brands like the Portuguese Vista Alegre. Jahara stands out for the pluralism of materials and techniques he employs in his designs: metal, glass, crystal, and porcelain, among others. Everything transforms with his distinctive touch and light-hearted style, imbued with humor.

Miguel Arruda

Emeritus Professor at the University of Lisbon. He works in the areas of Sculpture, Design, and Architecture. He has taught and lectured on his areas of expertise in Portugal and abroad, notably at the University of Bolzano, the Polytechnic Institute of Milan, and the University of Barcelona. He has participated in dozens of exhibitions, notably in 2010 at CCB in Lisbon, in 2012 at the Milan Triennale, in 2013 in a retrospective of his work at MUDE in Lisbon, and in 2016 at the Ibero-American Design Biennial in Madrid. Miguel Arruda's work has been described and analyzed in various national and foreign publications and has received over 30 international awards.

Paula Dib

Social Designer, working on processes beyond products in communities inside and outside Brazil. With a humanistic, diverse, cultural, and action-oriented perspective, Paula explores technologies and endemic opportunities, seeking to create coherent development cycles.

Kathi Stertzig

Co-founder of The Home Project Design Studio, where she develops social projects and products informed by cultural heritage and vernacular craftsmanship knowledge. She specializes in sustainable design practice through traditional craftsmanship and works closely with artisans from various countries. This approach materializes in manufactured products for contemporary markets, empowerment residences for artisan communities, practical workshops for educational institutions, and strategic consulting for governmental and private institutions.
